FLAME TREE NEW FICTION FOCUS

New & In-Print

Our new fiction focus catalogue offers a journey from living traditions to science fiction, from the supernatural to the fantastic, covering the entire range of storytelling from the distant past to visions of the far future.

The interplay of stories from history, legend and the imagination have entertained us through the millennia, but the modern age of storytelling, with its explosion of speculative literature allows us to understand traditions beyond our own.

The new fiction in our short story collections, and our Flame Tree Press imprint emerges from the neglected spaces of the world, and allows us to peer into hidden realms, to explore the nature of humankind, the world and, increasingly, the universe, with our perspectives broadened by an understanding of our many cultures.

The Open Heart.
Stories & Poetry of
Catherine Wells
Edited by Dr Emelyne Godfrey
and Patrick Parrinder

Published for the first time, The Open Heart is a telling tale of unfulfilment from the supportive, but long-neglected wife of H.G. Wells.

Catherine Wells was both the wife of the famous H.G. Wells and the author of short stories, poems and an unfinished novella, The Open Heart, a haunting study of a woman's sense of unfulfilment that adds to our knowledge of early 20th-century feminism. The Open Heart is published here for the first time, accompanied by her short stories and poems.

About the Editors: Emelyne Godfrey, PhD, is Chairperson of the H.G. Wells Society. She is author of Femininity, Crime and Self-Defence in Victorian Literature and Society (2012). Patrick Parrinder is Emeritus Professor of English at the University of Reading and President of the H.G. Wells Society..

Keeper of Sorrows.
Rachel Fikes

Whoever rules the bees, rules the world. A dark fantasy adventure with a twist of Silvia Moreno-Garcia.

On a ravaged planet dependent on the sole surviving bee species on a remote isle, whoever wins the Praxis to rule them as Keeper, rules the world. When the next Keeper goes missing, her sister must not only face her fear of bees while braving a haunted fortress to find her, but face the reigning Keeper, who's guarding the darkest secret of all.

About the Author: A former soldier, Rachel deployed to Iraq (OND) and Afghanistan (OEF) before finding her voice in dark fantasy. When she's not writing, she's likely enjoying a local brew—be it coffee or booze, and reading to her plants or irritating her Austin neighbors as she attempts to play the bagpipes.

Kosmos.
Adrian Laing

“Expect the unexpected at every turn of the page. Kosmos is a story like no other. Completely different, charming, and an enormous amount of fun.” – Cemetery Dance

Rookie barrister George Winsome defends a man who thinks he's Merlin on a manslaughter charge. The trial turns Merlin into a celebrity; money and ambition take hold of George and his partner Heather until the secret of Merlin's past is revealed as the spirit of Saint Yves intervenes to ensure George and Heather follow their true paths.

About the Author: Adrian Laing brings his life-long interest in law, psychology and Arthurian mythology to his fantasy novel Kosmos. He is also the author of an impressive range of other works – from the comprehensive and widely acclaimed biography of his late father R.D. Laing, to the satirical novel Rehab Blues and numerous legal works.

Heron Kings series
The Heron Kings.
Eric Lewis

“A promising debut from Eric Lewis. The Heron Kings is full of consistent characters that are inspiring and tough. Gruesome at times, this shows the true savagery of war and has enough action and intrigue to keep you on your toes.” – GrimDark Magazine

After a warlord slaughters her patients, Sister Alessia quits the cloister and strikes out on her own to heal the victims of a brutal dynastic conflict. When they uncover proof of a foreign conspiracy prolonging the bloodshed, Alessia risks the very lives she’s saved to expose the truth and bring the war to an end.

About the Author: Eric Lewis is a research chemist weathering the latest rounds of layoffs and trying to remember how to be a person again after surviving grad school. When not subjecting his writing to serial rejection, he can be found gathering as many different sharp and pointies as possible and searching for the perfect hiking trail, archery range or single malt Scotch. The Heron Kings is his first novel.

The Best of Our Past, the Worst of Our Future.
Christi Nogle

The Best of Our Past, the Worst of Our Future* is whimsical and dreadful, verdant and sinister. Readers of “quiet horror” or “slow-burn horror” will enjoy this collection.

Christi Nogle’s finest psychological and supernatural horror stories. Their rural and small-town characters confront difficult pasts and look out to promising but often terrifying futures. The stories share themes of trauma and resilience, with a focus on characters’ psychologies, and a sense of the gothic in contemporary life.

The Rift.
Seth C. Adams

From the author of the acclaimed If You Go Down to the Woods (HarperCollins) comes a new thriller in the slipstream of Jacob's The Monkey's Paw and King's Pet Sematary.

Estranged husband. Grieving father. A doorway through which the dead – or something else entirely – speak. How far would you go to see the ones you've lost, just one more time? Would you step through the rift? And, what if something else stepped out?

About the Author: Raised on comics, the fiction of King and Koontz, The Twilight Zone, and other genre fare unsuitable for an impressionable young mind, Seth C. Adams wanted to write at a young age. With a formal education in anthropology and history, as an adult he's learned that life is indeed stranger – and more terrifying – than fiction.

The Hungry Moon.
Ramsey Campbell

“In every respect, Campbell’s best.” – Kirkus Reviews

In the town of Moonwell, old rituals are still alive. Right-wing evangelist Godwin Mann isn’t about to let that continue, so he descends into the pit where the being who’s been worshipped by the Druids for centuries is said to dwell. What emerges is a demon in Mann’s shape, and only the town’s outcasts can see that something is horribly wrong.

The Darkest Lullaby.
Jonathan Janz

“I’m fascinated by those whose hedonism and insatiable desire for power cause them to cling to the notion of eternal life here on earth”
– Jonathan Janz

The old house waited. For years there had been rumors that the owner, Liliith Martin, had been part of an unholy cult. Then Liliith died and the house sat empty. Until now. Her nephew, Chris, and his wife, Ellie, are moving in as the house has a lot more room to raise a baby. Unfortunately, they will soon learn that Liliith has other plans.

That Which Stands Outside.

Mark Morris

A new chiller from multi award winning author of over 50 novels, winner of the New York Festival Radio Award for Best Drama Special and Festival Radio Awards.

A moody, Nordic folklore-inspired horror novel. When Yrsa Helgerson's mother dies, her boyfriend, Todd, accompanies her to her childhood home, an isolated Nordic island. There, the couple meet with enmity from the superstitious islanders, and as events escalate, are soon caught up in a desperate battle with terrifying forces.

About the Author: Mark Morris has written and edited almost forty novels, novellas, short story collections and anthologies. His recent work includes the official movie tie-in novelizations of The Great Wall and (co-written with Christopher Golden) The Predator, the anthologies New Fears (winner of the British Fantasy Award for Best Anthology) and New Fears 2 and many more.

Creature.
Hunter Shea

‘It’s much more than most creature features, it has heart and thought, and a superb, head-on horror conclusion. The best Hunter Shea I’ve read so far and by more than a little.’ – Eddie Generous (Unnerving Magazine)

The monsters live inside of Kate Woodson. Chronic pain and a host of autoimmune diseases have robbed her of a normal, happy life. Her husband Andrew’s surprise of their dream Maine lake cottage for the summer is the gift of a lifetime. It’s beautiful, remote, idyllic, a place to heal. But they are not alone. Something is in the woods.

About the Author: Hunter Shea is the product of a misspent childhood watching scary movies, reading forbidden books and wishing Bigfoot was real. He’s the author of over 17 books, including The Jersey Devil and We Are Always Watching. Hunter’s novels can even be found on display at the International Cryptozoology Museum.

Vulcan's Forge.
Robert Mitchell Evans

Robert Mitchell Evans has written a good story that reminded me very much of old black and white gangster movie. – British Fantasy Society,

Jason doesn't fit in the society of Nocturnia, the sole colony that survived the Earth's destruction. He starts an illicit and dangerous affair with Pamela, but soon they are engaged in a lethal game of cat and mouse with the colony's underworld head and the secrets Jason unlocks expose dangers far beyond Nocturnia and its obsessions.

About the Author: Robert Mitchell Evans has been a sailor, a dishwasher, a shipyard worker, a cashier, and currently his day-job is in the non-profit healthcare industry. He resides in San Diego, California and can frequently be found haunting southern California SF conventions.

Reclaimed Earth

The Sky Woman.

J.D. Moyer

“...wildly imaginative and totally entertaining. J.D. Moyer, you have yourself a new fan.” – Cemetery Dance

A ringstation anthropologist on her first Earth field assignment, observes a Viking-like village in the mountains. As Car-En secretly observes the Happedal villagers, she begins to see them as more than research subjects. When Esper’s sister is taken by an otherworldly sword-wielding man, she can no longer stand by as a passive witness.

About the Author: J.D. Moyer is the author of the Reclaimed Earth science fiction series and numerous works of short fiction. He lives in Oakland, California, with his wife, daughter, and mystery-breed dog. Don Sakers described his debut novel, The Sky Woman (Book 1 in the Reclaimed Earth series), as: ‘A well-told story reminiscent of Ursula K. LeGuin or Karen Lord.’

The Apocalypse Strain.
Jason Parent

“This book is like The Thing and Resident Evil got together, had an illicit love child, and then presented it in an enjoyable and action packed novel for my personal enjoyment.” – The Most Sublime

A multi-national research team, led by a medical genomics expert suffering from MS, study an ancient pandoravirus at a remote Siberian research facility. Called “Molli” by the research team, it is a force too dangerous to escape their compound. But the virus has a mind of its own, and it wants out.

About the Author: Jason is an author of horror, thrillers, and science fiction, though his novels tend to blur the boundaries between genres. From his award-winning first horror/mystery novel, What Hides Within, to his widely applauded supernatural thriller, Seeing Evil, Jason’s work has earned him praise from both critics and avid readers alike.

Jubilee.

Stephen K. Stanford

It was meant to be an in and out mission...

In the distant future, special agents Col Perolo and Daneé Hasum are sent to retrieve a corpse from the lawless artificial world of Jubilee – where their mission goes perilously pear-shaped. They might be falling in love, or they might even be saving the galaxy. Either way, the authorities will not be pleased.

About the Author: Stephen K. Stanford grew up in the rural outer Melbourne suburb of Eltham, the eldest of five children in a sprawling artistic family. After dropping out of an Economics degree, he travelled to Europe on a one-way ticket and returned some considerable time later with an Italian wife – two children following rapidly thereafter.

Tyler.

The Annual Crime Writers' Association anthology is always a thrilling read, and eagerly anticipated by readers and authors of crime and mystery fiction worldwide.

Music of the Night is a new anthology of original short stories contributed by Crime Writers' Association (CWA) members and edited by Martin Edwards, with music as the connecting theme. The aim, as always is to produce a book which is representative both of the genre and the membership of the world's premier crime writing association.

About the Author: Martin Edwards writes the Rachel Savernake, Lake District, and Harry Devlin mysteries. The Life of Crime, a genre history, won four awards, including an Edgar. He has won the CWA Diamond Dagger, Dagger in the Library and the Golden Derringer for lifetime achievement in the field of short mystery fiction.

Killing series
A Killing Fire.
Faye Snowden

“Full-bodied and dynamic characters carry this one along a mystery, tying a brutal past with a bloody present that will keep you guessing right up to the finale.” Unnering Magazine

As a child forced to witness her father’s crimes, homicide Detective Raven Burns dedicates her life to proving that she is not her father’s child. But when she shoots a suspect who has what turns out to be an unloaded weapon, Raven finds that she must confront both the demons of her past and the stains on her soul in order to stop a killer.

About the Author: Faye is the author of three novels and several short stories as well as a little poetry sprinkled here and there in various literary journals. She has a master’s in english literature and a deep curiosity in all things noir—especially stories populated with people from diverse ethnic backgrounds. She is currently working on her latest novel from her home in California.

Killing series

A Killing Rain.

Faye Snowden

Dark, Southern gothic tale of homicide detective Raven Burns, with a complicated past and a desperate case to solve. Black Girls Lit recommends the first book, A Killing Fire “to crime fiction and mystery lovers and fans of Ruth Ware and Gillian Flynn.”

Raven Burns wants nothing more than to leave police work forever to become the person that her serial killer father had always denied her. But when her nephew is kidnapped by a ruthless serial killer preying on young boys, Raven is pulled into her old life.

Two Lives.
A Yi,
Alex Woodend (tr.)

“His years as a police officer serve him well as he teases the truth from simple observation, now brought into the English language in a masterful translation by Alex Woodend.” – Mystery Tribune

Seven stories, seven whispers into the ears of life: A Yi’s unexpected twists of crime burst from the everyday, with glimpses of romance distorted by the weaknesses of human motive. A Yi employs his forensic skills to offer a series of portraits of modern life, both uniquely Chinese, and universal in their themes.

About the Author: A Yi is a celebrated Chinese writer living in Beijing. He worked as a police officer before becoming editor-in-chief of Chutzpah, an avant garde literary magazine. He is the author of several collections of short stories and has published fiction in Granta and the Guardian. In 2010 he was shortlisted for the People’s Literature Top 20 Literary Giants of the Future. A Perfect Crime, his first book in English was published by Oneworld in 2015. He is noted for his unsentimental worldview, and challenging literary style.
